SEDALIA, MISSOURI, MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 27, 1910.

VOL. 4. NO. 150. PRICE FIVE CENTS

CUBS WON EASILY

DEFEATED THE LEE'S SUMMIT TEAM SUNDAY AFTERNOON BY SCORE OF 7 TO 1.

DUVENICK ALLOWED THREE HITS

Outpitched Stevenson at All Stages of the Game—Warsaw "Reds" to Be With Us on Saturday and Sunday Next.

The reorganized Sedalia Cubs, under the management of R. J. Easley, defeated the reputed fast Lee's Summit team on the Liberty park diamond in the presence of possibly 500 people Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 1.

It had been told to Manager Easley that the Lee's Summit bunch was the "classiest" amateur ball team that had visited Sedalia this season, and this "misinformation" had been printed in the local press, so the audience was expecting an unusually good exhibition of the great national game, but was disappointed.

The visitors claimed to be short four of their regular men, three of whom were reported ill, and the fourth was playing with a semi-professional team in Kansas City yesterday. If such was the case it may in a measure account for their defeat.

Stevenson, who was in the box for the visitors, is said to have made a reputation in Kansas City, but judging by his exhibition here Sunday he is not in the same class with Sam Duvenick, who pitched for the Cubs. The latter never had to exert himself, and his victory was one of the easiest of the year. The lineup and batting order follows:

Lee's Summit—Koons, rf; Bowen, 2b; Allen, 3b; Jesse, ss; M. Smith, rf; Frogge, 1b; C. Smith, cf; Noel, c; Stevenson, p.

Cubs—Stewart, lf; Calloway, 3b; Armstrong, ss; Norman, 2b; Shadwell, 1b; Williams, cf; Owens, rf; Duvenick, p; Wilkinson, c.

There were no special features on the part of the visitors. In fact, they were frequently up in the air, and stood aghast when a Cub would cross the home plate while one of their number was holding the ball, apparently not knowing what to do with it.

The Cubs played good ball, the only two errors made being charged up to Billy Owens—in one instance letting a ball get away from him and in the other an overthrow to the plate. Worthy of special mention were a two-bagger and a three-bagger by Armstrong, Calloway's one-handed catch of a line drive and Wilkinson's landing of a foul ball, after a hard run. A summary of the game follows:

Cubs 2 0 1 1 0 0 3 x—7 9 2

Struck out: By Duvenick, 12; by Stevenson, 6. Base on balls: By Duvenick, 1; by Stevenson, 3. Hit by pitched ball: By Duvenick, 4; by Stevenson, 1. Three-base hits: Calloway and Armstrong. Two-base hits: Armstrong. Double plays: Wilkinson and Shadwell; C. Smith and Frogge. Stolen bases: Cubs, 5; Lee's Summit, 2. Time of game: 1 hour, 30 minutes. Umpire: Brown. Scorer: Art Sterling.

The Warsaw club will be here for games next Saturday and Sunday, July 2 and 3, and good exhibitions are assured. On Monday, the 4th, the Cubs go to Warsaw for a return game.

CHARGE OF LEWD CONDUCT

Couple Pleaded Guilty and Sent to the County Jail.

B. Harris, an M., K. & T. shopman, and Laura Barnes, employed at the plant of the Monarch Laundry company, were arrested by Officer W. S. Murphy at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, charged with lewd and lascivious conduct.

They were arraigned before Police Judge J. C. Connor today, before whom they entered a plea of guilty, each being fined $10. In default of payment they were committed to jail.

Give a Recital Friday Evening.

The Jesse French Piano company will give a recital by McNair Ilgenfritz, pianist, assisted by Mrs. E. F. Yancey and Miss Agnes Scott Longan, vocalists, at the opening of their new store, 504 South Ohio avenue, on Friday evening, July 1, at 8 o'clock.

Burial to Be at California.

Herbert Lawson, the 15-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sims, of Fourteenth and Vermont streets, died at 4 o'clock this morning, after two weeks' illness of cholera infantum. The body will be taken on Missouri Pacific train No. 8 this afternoon to California, Mo., where the interment will be made.

The parents and only little sister, Lillian, together with the grandmother, Mrs. G. F. Lawson, who was called here, will accompany the remains.

Will Call the Babe "Ruth."

Mrs. Philip Carman, formerly Miss Edna Mertz, of this city, gave birth to a daughter at her home at Rockford, Ill., Sunday, upon which the name of Ruth has been bestowed.

WED IN COLORADO

ALBERT W. LUTZ, OF SEDALIA, CLAIMED FAIR BRIDE AT BOULDER JUNE 22.

REV. J. C. JACOBY, OFFICIATED

Latter Was Formerly Pastor of Trinity English Lutheran Church Here—Make Their Home in the Prairie Queen.

The marriage of a Sedalia young man is written of as follows in the Boulder (Colo.) Daily Herald of Wednesday, June 22:

At the home of the officiating clergyman, 2343 Ninth street, in this city last evening at 8 o'clock, Albert W. Lutz, of Sedalia, Mo., and Miss Anna Zbaren, of this city, were married by Rev. J. C. Jacoby, D. D., pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church.

The beautiful ring service of the Lutheran church was used. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present to witness the ceremony.

The groom is a brother of Mrs. J. C. Jacoby, of this city, and is gang foreman of the M., K. & T. freight car shops at Sedalia, Mo. He is held in high esteem by both the company in whose employ he has been for more than ten years and by all who know him.

The bride is well and favorably known in this city. She is one of the most devoted and faithful young members of the Trinity Lutheran church, and has had a prominent place in every department of the church work, and in the social circles of the city has been held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. Those who knew her best esteemed and loved her most.

They will leave in a few days for Sedalia, Mo., where they will make their future home.

In the departure of Mrs. Lutz from our city both the church and the city will lose an example of noble Christian womanhood. But Boulder's loss will be Sedalia's gain, and all will join in wishing the happy young couple all possible happiness in their married life.

WHO WILL BE NOMINATED

To Fill Vacancy for Probate Judge on Republican Ticket?

Mr. H. W. Meuschke, chairman of the Pettis county republican central committee, returned this morning from a week's business visit in the states of Louisiana and Texas.

Asked by the Democrat-Sentinel when the vacancy on the party ticket for the office of probate judge, caused by the death of Capt. Wilson A. Fast, would be filled, Mr. Meuschke answered that he did not know, as he had just returned home and had not talked with any of the party leaders or members of the committee, but the work would be performed in ample time.

The name of W. W. Blain is being mentioned oftener than any other, possibly, in connection with the nomination.

Caught a Fifty-Pound Fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lopp and the latter's sisters, Misses Maggie and Bettie Clifton, returned Sunday from a three weeks' outing, fishing and hunting, near Fairfield.

Last Thursday Mr. Lopp caught a river catfish weighing fifty pounds on a throw line, which he brought to Sedalia to exhibit to friends.

MAY LOSE MONEY

AN EVEN BREAK FOR RICKARD AND GLEASON BE CONSIDERED LUCKY.

GOV. GILLETTE DID IT THEY SAY

Refund on Money Paid in is Now Being Demanded by Ticket Purchasers—Prices Soar in City of Reno.

Reno, Nev., June 27.—If "Tex" Rickard and Jack Gleason, the promoters of the big battle, break even they will be lucky.

Judging from the large number of cancellations of reserved seats that are being received here hourly now, the promoters have lost fully $200,000 by taking the fight to Reno, as forced by the orders of Governor Gillette, of California.

If the promoters have $100,000 set aside they will be fortunate. This amount, coupled with the money received for the pictures, will not give a profit worth mentioning.

In San Francisco the battle would easily draw $300,000. Rickard and Gleason had $120,000 in a "Frisco" bank. This money was sent by taps for reservations, and they held $100,000 worth of seats for different men that were not yet paid for. This brought the total amount up to within $75,000, the goal they were striving for. Then came the death blow that was dealt out by Governor Gillette. Cancellations since then have followed rapidly.

Sunday Gleason stated that he had in his grip cancellations for $5,000 worth of tickets, the money for which had already been paid and which was in a "Frisco" bank. He stated further that cancellation of $70,000 worth of seats which were reserved but were not paid for yet had also been received.

The prices on everything on sale in Reno are soaring upward.

VERNOR RICE DEAD

Died From Surgical Operation Due to Appendicitis.

Vernor Rice, a 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rice, of six miles southeast of Sedalia, died at his parents' home at 6 o'clock this morning, death being assigned to a surgical operation for appendicitis, performed at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Young Rice had been ill only two weeks and was quite well known throughout the county. Besides his parents, he leaves one brother and two sisters.

The Rev. E. H. Allen will conduct funeral services at the Christian church at Smithton at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Green Hill cemetery.

CAPT. FAST'S FUNERAL

Fifty Grand Army Veterans Attended in a Body.

The funeral of the late Capt. W. A. Fast was held at Calvary Episcopal church at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the presence of an unusually large attendance.

Fifty members of the G. A. R. attended in a body, also a large delegation of members of the Pettis County Bar association.

The Rev. D. H. Atwill officiated and there were many beautiful floral offerings. Mrs. E. F. Yancey was in charge of the music, and burial was in Crown Hill cemetery.

THE CHARGE IS DROPPED

Mr. Thomas J. Byrne Made a Worthless Check Good.

J. E. Love, night chief of police, returned this morning from St. Louis, to which place he went Friday night with a warrant for the arrest of Thomas J. Byrne, a well known contractor, of the Byrne Construction company, charged with obtaining $15 fraudulently from Charles F. Walch, of Walch's cafe, on May 28.

Byrne was arrested by the St. Louis police and turned over to Chief Love, but immediately he settled the case, reimbursing Mr. Walch and paying all costs, amounting to about $55, after which he was released and the charge dropped.

Horse Stepped on a Lad.

Roy Ruskin, a two-year-old son of Harry Ruskin, a grocer of Seventh street and Engineer avenue, had his face and one hand quite badly injured at his parents' home last evening when a horse stepped on him.

The child was playing near the horse when it knocked him to the ground. Dr. E. F. Staats attended him.

A Light Rain This Morning.

A light rain, only about enough to lay the dust, fell this morning. There was also a few drops of rain Sunday night, but a downpour for a couple of hours would be appreciated. There was a heavy rain west of Dresden, at Centertown and in the Montrose neighborhood Saturday evening.

TRAIN IS HELD UP

NORTHBOUND NO. 1, ON OREGON SHORT LINE, AT OGDEN, UTAH, TODAY.

EXPRESS SAFE CONTENTS TAKEN

Exact Amount of the Booty Not Ascertained—Robbers Made Their Escape—Two Passengers Were Assaulted.

Ogden, Utah, June 27.—The second section of Oregon Short Line train No. 1, northbound, which left Ogden at 1:30 this morning, was held up in the northern part of the city by three masked men.

All passengers on the train were relieved of valuables, and the express messenger was compelled to deliver the contents of the safe. The exact booty is not ascertained. The robbers made their escape in a buggy.

Mrs. J. H. Ball was relieved of a pair of diamond earrings, which were torn from her ears.

Brakeman Franklin and a foreigner, whose name was not learned, were the only ones assaulted. The foreigner did not understand what was going on, and was brutally beaten with the butt of a revolver.

Nearly one hundred passengers were on the train. Every one lost something.

SAD FALL FROM A SURREY

Master Glenn Brill Had a Close Call Sunday Evening.

Master Glenn Brill, a 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Brill, had a narrow escape from serious injury at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, while returning with his parents and others from a day's outing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schneider, southeast of town.

Master Glenn was riding with his parents in the rear seat of a surrey, and when about four miles from Sedalia he fell out of the vehicle and under one wheel. The wheel passed over his stomach, at first it being feared he had been injured internally.

In the fall to the road he hurt his shoulder quite painfully. The lad was hurriedly brought to town and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and C. B. Trader called to attend him. They made an examination of the child, but could find no evidence of internal injury, the only hurt being on his shoulder.

BARKEEPERS LOANED $50

The Garment Workers' Union Will Use the Money.

The regular meeting of the Barkeepers' union was held Sunday afternoon, during which meeting the union loaned $50 to the Garment Workers' union on East Third street.

W. H. Brown and "Jake" Kerns were appointed a committee to solicit new members for a large meeting to be held two weeks from yesterday.

THE GLIDDEN TOURISTS

Expected to Reach Omaha, Nebraska, Tonight.

Kansas City, Mo., June 27.—Early this morning the Glidden tourists left for Omaha, where they expected to stop tonight.

MARSHALL GETS IT

IF NECESSARY, SPRINGFIELD CAN WAIT, MR. HAMLIN SAYS IN LETTER.

CAN'T GET TWO PUBLIC BUILDINGS

A Misleading Telegram Got the Congressman into Trouble—Sets Himself Right Up in Saline County.

Some days ago there appeared a telegram in several newspapers, stating that as public building appropriations could not be made for both Springfield and Marshall that Congressman C. W. Hamlin had decided not to push Marshall's claims, says the Springfield Leader of Saturday. This caused the Commercial club of Marshall to protest to Mr. Hamlin, who in a long reply to W. C. Gordon, president of the club, says:

I am just in receipt of your "night letter" in regard to the statement said to be in Missouri's Sunday papers, in relation to public building bill and have wired you as follows:

"Statement in Sunday's papers, referred to in your telegram, wholly unauthorized. I have had no thought of leaving Marshall out of the bill. Marshall will be in the bill for $60,000. See letter.—C. W. Hamlin."

I now write to confirm that message. The publication to which you refer, did me an injustice, and you, relying on that publication, supposing it to be correct, were justly indignant at me; but low that you know the facts I sincerely trust that you and your people will feel correspondingly kindly toward me.

I had not seen the publication to which you referred and had not heard of it until this morning. My colleague, Judge Rucker, of the Second Missouri district, came into my office and asked me if I had seen the statement in the Sunday papers in regard to what the public building bill would contain. I answered him that I had not. He then told me what the statement in the papers was in relation to both his and my districts. While we were talking about the matter a messenger boy brought your telegram into my office. I was naturally indignant over this publication, and was anxious to ascertain if it was authorized by Mr. Bartholdt, who, as a member of that committee, had charge of the Missouri projects.

Judge Rucker and myself went immediately to Mr. Bartholdt's office and he assured us there that the publication was wholly unauthorized by him, and assured us that he could not understand how they got the information which they published, as the bill has not yet been reported.

Mr. Bartholdt has stated all along that he would consult each member of the delegation in relation to projects to go into the bill for his district.

Some two weeks ago I had a talk with him, and of course, insisted strongly that he ought to put both Marshall and Springfield in the bill. This he contended would be impossible, for the reason that he was compelled, "by the powers that be," to report a small bill and therefore could not take care of more than one project in each district, and that therefore I must make a selection. I then asked him when he was going to take up the Missouri projects and he informed me that it would be after he had come over the projects from other states.

I like the other members, was waiting to be notified by him, when he was ready to take up the Missouri projects, but I was not notified, and as I stated a while ago, immediately upon the receipt of your telegram I went to his office in company with Judge Rucker and had a conference with him, with the result that he assured me, in Judge Rucker's presence, that upon my request he would put Marshall in the bill for $60,000, which he also stated was an extremely liberal allowance, especially when compared with other projects in the bill for towns the size of Marshall.

To show you that I have not wavered for a moment in my determination to take care of Marshall, in case I could get only one project in the bill, I enclose herewith a copy of a letter written to Dr. Reinhold, president of the Springfield club, dated the

The "Reds" Lost Both Games.

The Warsaw Reds met defeat by a score of 7 to 2, administered by Will Ruwart's Jefferson City team on the state capital grounds Sunday, in one of the most exciting games of the season. The Reds also lost the Saturday game, 1 to 6. Leo McGurran played with Warsaw and got a two-bagger in the Saturday game.

Been Married Four Years Today.

Harvey L. Hudson, a linotype operator for the Democrat-Sentinel and his good wife, formerly Miss Rylie Trent Jones, are today celebrating quietly the fourth anniversary of their marriage, which was solemnized by the Rev. J. J. Pritchett, then pastor of the Fifth Street M. E. church, South, of this city.

REWARD OF PARR

HIS REWARD OF $100,000 FOR SUGAR FRAUDS INFORMATION NOT YET PAID.

NEW ENGLAND SENATOR OBJECTS

He Alleges That Parr Attempted to Implicate Him in the Swindle and He Now Proposes to Play for "Even."

Washington, June 27.—A treasury draft for $100,000 would have been drawn to the order of Richard Parr some time next week but for an objection made by a New England republican senator.

He blocked an appropriation for this amount for Parr, which Chairman Tawney had provided for, and declared that so long as he remains in congress the sugar frauds discoverers should not get one penny.

The senator is seeking revenge because he says that Parr informed the Washington authorities that he was mixed up in the sugar frauds.

Parr denies that he made any such charge. He admits, however, that he discovered and reported that some widely known republican office holders and officials might close to the senator were involved in wholesale smuggling cases which he broke up several years ago. Chairman Tawney believes that the reward of $100,000 is not too large and he favors paying it at once.

ENDS COURT HOUSE FIGHT

Greene County Will Witness Corner Stone Laying, July 16.

Springfield, Mo., June 27.—Arrangements are being made for laying the cornerstone of the new $350,000 Greene county court house, Saturday, July 16.

This will mark the longest fight in the state for the location of a court house between two factions in a county.

The fight commenced thirty years ago, when a court house was found to be needed badly, but the people of the county could not agree on a site.

Governor Hadley, John E. Swanger and James A. Reed probably will be the speakers at the corner stone laying if they will attend.

THREE LOST THEIR LIVES

And Five Seriously Burned When Steamer Was Consumed.

La Crosse, Wis., June 27.—Three dead, five badly injured and scores, possibly hundreds, slightly burned, while all the others of the 1500 excursionists on board the steamer J. S. escaped unhurt, is briefly the story as seen by the light of day of the burning of the historic old excursion boat in the Mississippi river at Victory, Wis., Saturday night.

Bride and Groom Are Home.

Caleb Bandy, a clerk and stenographer in the office of Supt. A. J. Alexander, of the Missouri Pacific, and bride, formerly Miss Anna Smith, who have been spending their honeymoon at St. Louis, returned home on train No. 3 this morning.

Browne Bribery Jury Still Out.

Chicago, June 27.—The Browne bribery jury is still out. One report has it that it stands eight to four for acquittal.

BURNS WERE FATAL

THOSE RECEIVED BY A MISSOURI PACIFIC MACHINIST AT COFFEYVILLE.

HE DIED IN KANSAS CITY SUNDAY

Was Sprinkling a Compressed Air Machine With a Hose Into Which Gasoline Had Been Poured by Some One Unknown.

Kansas City, Mo., June 27.—Clair Munger, a Missouri Pacific machinist, who was burned in the shops at Olatome, Kan., Saturday afternoon, died at 1 o'clock yesterday morning at the Missouri Pacific hospital here.

Early in the afternoon Munger fastened a hose used for sprinkling on a compressed air machine. Someone had poured gasoline into the hose which was forced out, saturating his clothing.

The oil was ignited from a torch he was carrying, and before assistance arrived he was burned. George Steel, another machinist, finally smothered the flames, and was badly burned about the face and hands. He is in the hospital, but his condition is not serious.

Munger was 25 years old and married. The body was taken to the Carroll-Davidson undertaking rooms to await the arrival of the widow.

WANTS TO BE HEARD

Attorney General of Oklahoma Asked U. S. Attorney for Hearing.

Guthrie, Ok., June 27.—Attorney General West today had the following message sent to Attorney General Wickersham at Washington:

"It is rumored here that application will be made to you to bring proceedings in the name of the United States to prevent the removal of the state capital from Guthrie to Oklahoma City. This same question has been set for hearing in the state court Tuesday, and if the matter is taken up by your department, I desire an opportunity to present my objections in person."

Sensors Gore and Owen also wired to ask a hearing for Attorney General West.

BETTING NOW IN FRISCO

Odds Still Stand Ten to Six, but Eastern Money May Change It.

San Francisco, June 27.—Betting on the Jeffries-Johnson fight was heavy yesterday, with odds remaining at ten to six in favor of the white man.

In spite of the fact that it was Sunday a large amount of money poured into the pool rooms all day, but it was so evenly distributed that the odds were not affected.

Local boosters still control the situation, but it is expected an influx of eastern money during the next few days may lengthen the prevailing odds.

SOLD LIFE DEARLY

Georgia Murderer Killed Two and Himself Was Slain Today.

Atlanta, Ga., June 27.—W. T. Bostwick, after being barricaded in his house for hours and killing two of his hostages yesterday, was himself killed in a rush on the house today near Irwinville, Ga. His children were taken out unhurt.

Bostwick had shot and killed the chief of police and sheriff and wounded three others Sunday when they tried to arrest him for a murder committed some time ago.

RACE WAR WAS FATAL

Negroes and Whites Have Fierce Battle Near Jackson, Miss.

Jackson, Miss., June 27.—Meager details reached here today of a race riot near Harrisville Sunday which has already cost two lives and from which more trouble is expected. Several hundred white men are now in search of negro fugitives.

JULY REDUCTIONS ON CLOTHING!

Deep cuts are made to dispose immediately of the large accumulation of high-grade Suits for men and young men—now only one, two or perhaps three, of a kind—remaining from this season's best sellers.

NO MAN could ask for, nor can find elsewhere in Sedalia, a more favorable opportunity to buy at a special price advantage, than in this great sale at "THE HUB." In the first place, you have the season's most favored patterns and styles to select from. A guarantee of goodness and dependability of these fine suits is found in the fact that our purchases this season have been from clothes makers of the best repute, such as The Collegian David Adler & Son, Milwaukee and the Oriole Clothing Co. of Baltimore, who have the acknowledged ability to attain clothes-perfection in their productions. We wish to specially impress upon you that the price reductions are extraordinary, and that they are actual—don't confuse "THE HUB'S" truthful statement of prices with gross exaggerations you may see elsewhere. We have intentionally made our sale prices lower than is probably necessary, so that men least inclined to give attention to sales will sit up and take notice.

Men's and Young Men's $25.00 and $27.50 Suits Now $14.65

THIS aggressive price-cutting on these exceptionally desirable suits is of unusual importance. They are strictly all wool worsteds of the celebrated Collegian and Oriole lines. The fabrics, patterns and styles are the most pleasing shown anywhere in Sedalia today at any price around $25.00 and $27.50—the workmanship and finish are of the standard characterizing the very highest-priced clothing—yet for this sale all the remaining small lots of our $25.00 and $27.50 lines of men's and young men's suits are reduced to $14.65—a reduction which would be liberal in a general clearance. These are the latest shades, such as gray, brown and shadow stripe blues; hand-tailored and perfect fitting.

$20 and $22.50 Suits Reduced to $12.95 Buy Men's $15 Suits for $9.95 We've Reduced $18 Suits to $11.95

FIGURE for yourself the dollars you will save on a suit from either of the above groups—remember, too, that this saving is on suits of fine quality and up-to-date styles—on garments that you would willingly pay the original prices, they are so superior in every way. A large assortment—pleasing patterns and the nobbiest shades—all sizes. The $15.00 suits for $9.95; the $18.00 suits for $11.95 and the $20.00 and $22.50 suits for $12.95.

$7.98 BUYS MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S SUITS WORTH 12.50

$6.78 BUYS A SPLENDID SUIT WORTH $10.00.

CORN IN MISSOURI

PREMIUMS TO BE AWARDED IN 1910 TO THE GROWERS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

MERCHANDISE AND CASH $6,000

Of This Sum $4,500 Is Offered By the Frisco Railway Company—Annual Corn Show in Columbia This Fall.

Columbia, Mo., June 27.—The corn growers of Missouri will have an opportunity of winning premiums on corn this year that total in value more than $6,200. Of this amount $4,500 is offered by the Frisco railroad as prizes on corn grown in their territory. The Missouri Corn Growers' association, through the courtesy of a large number of manufacturing firms and other business enterprises presents a premium list that totals in value more than $1,700. Every man or boy in Missouri is eligible to compete for these prizes. The opportunity is yours. Will you take advantage of it?

The management of the Frisco lines after carefully investigating the work done at the Agricultural college of the University of Missouri believes it can well afford to send farmers along its lines to the university to make careful study of modern methods in agriculture as taught by that school. It therefore offers in each of the forty-five counties in Missouri, through which its lines extend, a scholarship of $100 to the short winter course in agriculture in the University of Missouri at Columbia next winter.

These scholarships consist of $100 each, which will be sufficient to pay all necessary expenses of the recipient for the entire term of fourteen weeks, beginning November 1, 1910. They will be awarded to the man or boy 16 years of age or over, who grows and exhibits the best ten ears of corn in his county this year. A corn show will be held in each of the Frisco counties this fall, where corn entered in this contest must be exhibited. Expert corn judges from the Agricultural college will judge the exhibits and award the scholarships. The date and place for holding these shows may be ascertained by writing the Agricultural college, Columbia, Mo.

The Missouri state corn show will be held this year as usual during farmers' week at the Agricultural college in Columbia. An unusually good list of premiums have been secured, the total list to date representing a value of more than $1,700. Among these premiums are a number of very valuable farm implements that are worthy of the best efforts of every corn grower in Missouri.

Some changes have been made in the plans for this year, and a number of new features have been added. It is planned to present a wider classification than has been the custom heretofore in order to insure a wider distribution of premiums. To bring this about the state will be divided into sections with a complete premium list in each. This will relieve the necessity of corn growers in some of the less favorable corn districts in the state from competing with those in the more favorable localities, and will doubtless increase interest in the show.

Horrible Example. A certain bishop was famous as being the plainest man of England. One day, as this homely parson sat in an omnibus, he was amazed by the persistent staring of a fellow passenger, who finally said:

"Look 'ere, parson, would you mind comin' 'ome with me to see my wife?"

Imagining the wife was sick and needed assistance, the clergyman, at great inconvenience to himself, went. On arriving at the home, the man pointed to the astonished parson, and said with a grin of delight:

"Look 'ere, Sairy. Yer said this mornin' as I was the hugliest chap in England. Now, just look at this bloke!"—Philadelphia Record.

Willing to Take a Chance. The other evening a particularly weebecone and souseful looking person stopped James J. Buckley on East Sixth street.

"Gimme a dime for a bed, won't you, mister?" asked the stranger in that half whisper they always use. Buckley looked at him for a minute thoughtfully. "Well," says he seriously, "bring the bed around and let me see it. If I think it's worth the price I'll give you a dime for it, of course."

Scared Into Sound Health. Mr. B. F. Kelley, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder, which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull heavy headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free of all distress."—W. E. Bard Drug Co.

WILL MAKE HORSES GLAD

A Simple Preparation Gives Immunity From the Pesky Fly.

If you love horses and hate flies, here is a recipe that you should paste in your hat, says the Kansas City Star. It is from O. R. Polk, of Atchison, Kas., an employee of the Missouri Pacific Railroad company, who says it was given him by a horseman in Texas, and that it will afford horses absolute protection from flies. The recipe:

Pennyroyal 1 ounce
 Alcohol 2 ounces
 Fish oil 1/2 pint
 Mix in a bottle and shake well before using. Apply lightly to the horse's coat each morning, and for twenty-four hours he will be immune from winged pests. Be careful to apply the preparation lightly, or it will stiffen the hair. It has no offensive odor, and is absolutely harmless. One bottle will last a summer for one horse. Any drug store can supply the ingredients.

"Flies will drive a nervous horse nearly wild in hot weather," Mr. Polk said. "I hate to see them suffer, so I hope everyone will try this preparation. It is cheap, and certainly does the work. And it will protect dogs and other animals just as effectively."

KILLED IN AN AUTO WRECK

Pittsburg, Pa., Merchant's Machine Is Hit By Trolley.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 27.—William H. Hamilton, a wealthy furniture dealer of Roscoe, started out in his new touring car last afternoon with his wife, their family of two little girls and two older boys and a neighbor's girl, to try out the machine. He failed to stop quickly enough when he met an interurban car on the Pittsburg-Charlottesville line, fifteen miles out of Pittsburg. The motor and trolley collided and the gasoline tank in the auto exploded. Hamilton was killed and his 18-year-old son, Leroy, was burned to a crisp in the wreckage.

All five survivors are in the Charlottesville hospital. Mrs. Hamilton was so badly burned that it is not thought she can recover. One little daughter sustained a fractured skull and three other children cuts and burns.

DOTY, THE SUCCESSFUL MAN.

He Was the Merchant of the Town—Was at Store When Wanted.

I remember in the little town where I was born there was a little merchant named Doty, says Manly M. Gillian. He had a store about twenty feet square, and his whole stock might not have amounted to over $50. In that town there were several rather pretentious grocery stores, and a general store, and people used to speak disparagingly of Doty. To illustrate the end of smallness we would say "Doty." When I returned to that town, after an absence of about twenty years and asked "Where's so and so, and where's so and so?" people would say, "Well, so and so's dead, and so and so's carrying on business here and there"; but when one asked what had become of Doty, the people said "Doty is the merchant of the town." Doty was there during business hours and when any one wanted Doty, Doty was there. Nobody ever estimated that Doty had any capacity, but by and by the people began to find a reason for the growth of Doty's business, and they found that he had the very elements of business success. When people were making fun of him, he was attending to business, and the result was that he had a large business.

To Test Wool and Linen.

It often happens that woolen goods will be doctored with cotton. To discover this there are several tests that can be made. One is the match test. By applying a lighted match to a sample of the goods, the manner in which it burns will be evidence of its genuineness.

Wool will burn slowly, while cotton will go like a train of gunpowder. Another test is to unravel the threads and the cotton can easily be detected. To the experienced buyer the "feel" of linen is a sufficient indication of the quality, but for those who lack this knowledge there is an old-fashioned test which our grandmothers used which is unfailing to show if there is cotton in the linen. Dampen the finger and apply to the surface of the linen fabric. If the moisture is seen on the other side you may know at once it is linen. If it is slow in coming through, without doubt there is an admixture of cotton. Another method is to unravel the threads, as in the wool test.

Knowing Chinese Dogs.

Prince Pu Lun and the Chinese minister Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, attended the races at Gravesend early in the month.

A number of New Yorkers were presented to the distinguished foreigners, and one of them told an incident that illustrated the remarkable intelligence of a dog of his. The minister said, with a smile:

"I am reminded, sir, of a Chinese dog story.

"There was a Chinaman who had three dogs. When he came home one evening he found them asleep on his couch of teakwood and marble. He whipped them and drove them forth. "The next night, when he came home, the dogs were lying on the floor. But he placed his hand on the couch and found it warm from their bodies. Therefore he took them another whipping.

"The third night, returning earlier than usual, he found the dogs sitting before the couch, blowing on it to cool it."—New York Tribune.

ARRANGING FLOWERS TO BEST ADVANTAGE.

Any yellow, red or white blossoms, except roses, are admirably adapted to place in brass or copper jars, and such holders have distinct advantages over ordinary vases, for the reason that they may be used for other purposes.

Nothing can be more charming, for instance, and at the same time less expensive than a shallow jar or basin, holding five jonquils and as many stems of narcissus. When so few flowers are used they should be placed in small iron rings, to be found now in almost all art departments, and certainly in all oriental shops. The rings are just large enough to hold one flower, and are joined in groups of three or five. These sets are put into any kind of shallow dish one chooses, filling it with water. The addition of small white pebbles, just on a line with the top of the rings, adds to the artistic effect, if the stems are a bit small for the holders each may be braced by putting a piece of match or a section of another stem into the hole. The object is to make each flower stand erect. A better effect is gained by having the stems irregular lengths, rather than all the same. Any stiff stalk flowers are used in this way, and later in the spring twigs of apple and other fruit blossoms make a lovely table decoration.

Very long stem jonquils are effective in a deep brass or copper urn. A large number is not required if the blossoms are first put into a tumbler or other small receptacle. This, filled with water, is placed in the urn. Missonette is another flower.

er lens itself to metal holders with admirable results, especially as the stems soon defile the water and transparency then, detracts from their beauty.

Cut glass and silver are better adapted for roses than to any other flowers, the combination being more harmonious. Rose stems, with the foliage attached, are always pretty and show through glass, while the brilliancy of the cutting, or polish of the silver, sets off the flowers as diamonds do an evening gown.—Washington Star.

THE DR. CASTO MEDICAL CO.

SEDALIA'S LEADING SPECIALIST

The phenomenal success and wonderful cures obtained by Dr. Casto, Chief Specialist of the Dr. Casto Medical Co., has gained for him a wide reputation. His new system of treatment, The Modern Americanized European Method, is especially adapted for the cure of all those chronic, deep-seated conditions that so baffle the skill of the ordinary physician, and all those who resort to the reckless use of the knife in the hope of a cure. He does not wish to appear boastful or egotistical and knows that there is a prejudice in the minds of some against those that advertise, but after making a great discovery in the art of healing, he believes that for the sake of suffering humanity he should publish the evidence of his achievement and spread broadcast in this way the fact that after the ordinary methods have failed, there is yet hope for many sufferers. His patients always feel very grateful for their cures, and many of them kindly consent to have their cases published solely in the hope of inspiring confidence in some poor fellow sufferer. They cast aside all modesty and give a history of their condition because they fully realize what great encouragement such words were to them at a time when they were trying to decide what course to pursue to get well.

INFLAMMATION OF THE BLADDER

MR. ADOLPH DICK.

A pioneer of Cooper county, and now one of the influential citizens of Tipton, Mo. Having been engaged in the milling business for many years. He is widely and favorably known and his word is as good as his bond. Mr. Dick came to us some months ago with a complicated disease of the urinary tract greatly aggravated by taking the wrong kind of medicine. He was suffering intensely, his whole urinary tract was involved. It was with great difficulty that he could retain his urine even for a short time. He was indeed in a most critical condition for a man 75 years of age, and only by the most prompt and energetic application of our New System of Treatment were we able to arrest his disease. He is now out of danger and feels deeply gratified telling what has been done for him solely for the benefit of his fellow sufferers.

Dr. Casto, Chief Specialist of The Dr. Casto Medical Co., Sedalia, Mo.

Dear Doctor:—You have described my case in the above much better than I could, but I feel called upon to say that when I came to you last January I was in great distress. I had been doctoring with other doctors, but the medicine made me much worse. I became alarmed, as my brother had died of the same disease, and I concluded to seek the best medical aid obtainable and accordingly placed myself in your care. I am glad to say that I made no mistake, and it is a pleasure for me to recommend you to the confidence of the public as a Specialist of great skill, while your New System of Treatment is far in advance of all ordinary methods.

Yours truly, ADOLPH DICK, Tipton, Mo.

KIDNEY, BLADDER & URINARY DISEASE

BLOODLESS SURGERY—NO KNIFE—NO CUTTING.

Deep-seated diseases of the Prostate Gland, the Bladder, Kidneys and Urinary Tract, together with other complications that oftentimes arise, such as Rheumatism, Vericocoe Drains, Lost Vitality, Stricture, Bloody Urine, Painful Urination and Chronic Nervous Weakness, all readily yield to the influence of our New System of Treatment. Bright's Disease is like a thief in the night. It steals upon the system, it slowly fastens its terrible fangs upon the vital organs and the victim has no knowledge of his true condition until he is on the verge of a complete breakdown. Chronic Bright's Disease presents great difference in different cases and many of the early symptoms are only recognized by the expert, long trained in the special use of the microscope. If you are a sufferer, come to our office and we will examine you Free of Charge, and if we find that your condition will yield to the influence of our New Treatment, then we will accept your case. If you need constant attention, our Private Sanitarium affords you every convenience.

Receivers' $1,000,000 Liquidation Sale!

OF THE HUNDLEY DRY GOODS CO. STOCK OF ST. JOSEPH, MO.

Continues Tomorrow, Offering This Summer's Choicest Merchandise at the Very Lowest Prices Quoted in This City in Years

This sale began today with a burst of enthusiasm. From the moment the doors opened Chasnoffs store was packed and jammed to overflowing with the largest and best natured crowd of shoppers that ever attended a sale in Sedalia. The values were enthusiastically proclaimed by delighted shoppers to be the most sensational ever experienced. Tremendous quantities of this Summer's most desirable goods veritably melted away today, but our purchases were so extensive that it will take many days of the swiftest sort of selling to exhaust the great stocks that come with this masterly trade triumph.

The Hundley D. G. Co., of St. Joseph, Mo., one of the largest and best known concerns in the West, was forced into Receivers' hands and their entire $1,000,000 stock is now being liquidated for the benefit of creditors.

Our buyers attended this sale and secured great lots of merchandise—crisp, new, fresh goods of thorough reliance and merit—the kinds most in demand now—at prices so unprecedentedly low that we can and are now offering our patrons the most generous bargains distributed in this or any other city in years. This great bargain carnival continues tomorrow with some of the best bargain offerings yet presented.

NEWS OF THE RAIL

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AIMS TO REDUCE THE COST OF LOCOMOTIVE OPERATION.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

The Southern Pacific is using approximately 750,000 barrels of crude oil per month, or 9,000,000 barrels a year, for fuel for locomotives upon its lines in New Mexico, Arizona and part of California south of Ashland, says a Deeming, N. M., dispatch. It is stated that the locomotive boiler pressure averages about 100 pounds, and the efficiency obtained gives an equivalent of 163 gallons of oil to 2000 pounds of coal. This means an enormous saving in fuel expenses. The Southern Pacific is making exhaustive explorations for oil in Mexico along the southern route of its new Pacific line. The fuel cost on the new road is said to be very heavy, and the development of an oil supply is urgently desired to lessen the cost of operation.

The Southern Pacific interests have developed a big producing oil field on the gulf coast adjacent to Tampico, but it is too far away to be serviceable for the west coast line. It is stated that the exploitation for oil on the gulf coast was started by direction of the late E. H. Harriman, who at that time had in view the construction of a railroad between San Antonio and the City of Mexico, via Tampico. The survey for this proposed road was in progress at the time of Mr. Harriman's death, but nothing toward the consummation of the project is now going on, so far as the public is aware.

Saloon Thought No. 426

SALOONS MAKE BUSINESS POOR.

It will be remembered that a short time ago the town of Gary, in the northern part of Indiana, which has been without saloons for a year, again opened its gates to these resorts. The plea there, as elsewhere, was made that if saloons were permitted to open their doors, all kinds of business would prosper. Evidently the Gary saloons hurt business just as they injure it in other localities. A business man of Gary, writing to a creditor in Kalama-zoo, apologizes for not paying his account with the wholesale house, and says: "I will send you a remittance soon. Business has been poor for the past month. We have had 160 saloons start up in our city and business with me has dropped right off."

o'clock this morning, due to an engine failure.
The train was held at California until another locomotive from Jefferson City could replace the defective engine, causing a three-hour delay. Passengers for Sedalia were transferred from the train to train No. 3, arriving here at 4:30 o'clock.

What a Dream Told.

It was a habit of the Rev. James Spurgeon, grandfather of the great preacher of that name, to pray each evening under a certain oak tree in a secluded wood in Honeywood Park. One night he dreamed, the story goes, that Satan appeared and threatened to tear him to pieces if he followed his accustomed route to the tree. There was another path by which he might go in safety. Remembering his dream Spurgeon felt sorely tempted the next night to take the route in which Satan was not. But this would be to capitulate. Trembling in every limb he made his way by the path in which the danger lay. He reached his goal in safety and in prayer and song returned thanks for delivery from peril. When his prayer had ended he rose "o return. In his path lay a piece of solid gold "as large as a curtain ring." All inquiry failing to discover an owner he retained it, and when he married had his wife's wedding ring made from his curious find.

MARSHALL GETS IT

4th day of this month and which will explain itself.

The doctor seems to have entirely misconstrued this letter, getting the idea that I was going to put Marshall in the bill in the house, but would endeavor to have Senator Stone and Senator Warner, when the bill got over to the senate, to substitute Springfield.

I ascertained that fact from a copy of a letter which he had written to Senators Stone and Warner and a copy of which he enclosed to me in a communication dated June 10th, 1910, and a copy of which I send you.

I was greatly surprised at his misconstruction of my letter of June 4th, 1910, and immediately upon receipt of his letter wrote him the letter dated June 13th, 1910, a copy of which I herewith enclose you.

I think that you will see from this correspondence that I state only the simple truth when I say I have never wavered in my determination to take care of Marshall.

As I stated to Dr. Rienhoff in my letter of the 13th, I have not been actuated in my selection of Marshall by sentiment, but purely by what my idea of fairness and of my duty to my constituency dictated. It is not a question of love—for I love the people of both Saline and Greene counties. It is a question of what I believe to be fair and right.

I have realized all along that Springfield needs, badly, an extension to her building, yet being confronted by the fact that she has a building in which she can transact her business and Marshall has none, it has always seemed to me that I, representing the entire district, could do only one thing, and that was to select the town which had no building.

I realize that, in all probability, I will be criticised, especially by the republican press of Springfield, for selecting Marshall, but the course I have pursued expresses my judgment, as your representative, and has the unqualified approval of my conscience.

In conclusion, let me indulge the hope that as I perhaps have been criticised by my constituents at Marshall and Saline county, who were misled by the newspaper article referred to, that my friends at Marshall, who are so deeply concerned in the welfare of their own town, will see to it that my true attitude is made known to the public, fully believing when this is done I will have the approval of all fair-minded people both at Marshall and Springfield.

Burial Right Secure.

There is a strange custom prevalent among the old fishermen and handloom weavers of Glirvan, Scotland. The industries of the town are fast decaying, only a very few weavers being kept busy now, so the younger generation have to migrate in search of fresh fields. When the grown-up sons and daughters have been successful in their new spheres, often at the other side of the world, their thoughts are busy with the "auld folks." A very common present to the latter is that of a "certificate" giving the right to be buried in the old churchyard. This their parents' last resting place is secured, and so common is the custom that only to a stranger does its greivousness appeal. The old people tell of the possession with pride and thankfulness.

Strange Burial Custom.

Natives of the northeast coast of Scotland observe a curious custom at funerals. After the burial service the coffin is carried outside the house and placed upon the two chairs on which it had rested within doors. As soon as the pallbearers lift up their burden and begin their journey to the graveyard these chairs are at once thrown sharply on their backs. In this position they are kept until the interment has taken place, when they are taken indoors again. Any attempt to place the chairs on their legs or to take them in before the proper time is at once frustrated by the relatives of the dead.

Tobacco Growing Prohibited.

In Spain, although all the tobacco-growing colonies have been seized by the United States, the growing of tobacco in Spain itself, for which the provinces of Malaga, Almeria and Zeres are admirably adapted, is prohibited. All the same, tobacco is not only grown but is cultivated in sufficient quantities to employ four factories, of which the products are on sale throughout Spain. After a recent council the king produced a packet of cigars, and offering one to each of the ministers, said pleasantly: "Try these. To my thinking they are excellent cigars. They have been sent to me as a present from Andalusia, where, I am told, they are manufactured by contraband from Spanish-grown tobacco." This incident is expected to put matters on a better footing.

SPENDING THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS EXPERIMENTING

The Scientist Made a Great Discovery.

When a man is in doubt it becomes his duty to investigate and when proof is piled upon proof it is time to be convinced. There is nothing in life so valuable as good health. The reporter of this article personally knows of several people here that are rapidly regaining their health because they investigated the proofs produced by the Root Juice people and were convinced. We positively know that an eminent scientist devoted several years of his life to hard study and spent over ten thousand dollars experimenting before the afflicted were permitted to try his great discovery, which is now curing people all over the country, after all other remedies had failed.

If you bloat and belch sour gases; if your food lays heavy on the stomach; if you have any symptoms of indigestion, we honestly believe that one dose of Root Juice will convince you of its wonderful merits. Root Juice soothes and heals the mucous lining of the stomach, bowels and bladder and at the same time heals and strengthens the liver and kidneys. It prevents fermentation of food in the stomach and bowels and stops formation of acid by causing the digestive fluids to be supplied in sufficient quantities in a natural way and giving the liver and kidneys health and strength to do the work nature intended them to do. The blood will soon be filtered of all impurities and good, rich blood will be made to nourish the whole body. Poor, weak women and dyspeptic, backaching, rheumatic men, take this advice before it is too late: Go immediately and get a bottle of Root Juice. Now on sale, $1 a bottle, or three bottles for $2.50, at Wilcox's drug store.

which will shape future American history, it is believed.

Never in its palmy days as the summer capital of the former president has the little Long Island hamlet, that now holds the lionized lion-hunter, been watched as eagerly by a public that now realizes the possibilities of the situation that is seething every hour in the shadow of Sagamore Hill.

Motor cars, crammed with political potentates from every corner of the country, are flying back and forth by night and day on the road to the latest lair of the jungle shooter.

Behind the thick foliage that shuts out the Roosevelt home as completely as the sudden reticence of its lord, men of the most weight in national affairs are today constantly seeking confidential conferences with the former dictator of political affairs.

When the upshot of these powwows at Oyster Bay is at last revealed no one here will be surprised if the whole country is convulsed at its effect.

Engaging a crack shot with a lifetime of hunting experience behind him, the authorities have today begun ceaseless warfare here against the wild animals that are threatening to make Central park a place fit only for an armed and wary adventurer.

Hordes of rats, squads of cats run wild, and packs of abandoned, wolfish dogs are terrorizing the pleasure crowds of the great park tract.

To hunt down and break up this collection of abnormal animals, to whom the great, green stretch of country is always extending the call of the wild, the city's official hunter has begun to bend his best energies, with his rifle ready at his shoulder.

Already many of the song birds that are now known to be invaluable for preserving natural growth against the insect pests they eat have fallen prey to these prowlers of the park, and it is believed that even more damage may be done if they are not soon exterminated.

Plunged suddenly from the most chill and rainy spring in recent history full into the grip of a record hot spell, New Yorkers are today vainly seeking to stay the effects of the most ugly weather that ever hit their town.

Torrid days are now followed by tempestuous storms that riddle the island with lightning and wind gusts and leave fog and drizzle in the wake for days.

Of all the recent Sundays, when the many beach resorts should flourish here, only one has been even partly clear. With thousands of cars, stored since last September, simply to accommodate the crowds of the summer Sundays, the trolley men hereabouts have scarcely collected a hundred thousand excursion fares thus far.

Millions of dollars worth of power plants and rolling stock must be held in reserve most of the year to cope with the short summer rush to parks

Associated Press.

New York, June 27.—When James J. Jeffries was born, thirty-five years ago April 15 last, a first-class fighting man was created. He was endowed with everything that goes to make up a fighter, right from the start. He did not need to train and school himself to any great extent. He had both the brain and the brawn, and all he lacked was the ambition to win fame as a fighter.

When the ambition did come to him it required but two years for him to vanquish every fighter worthy of consideration, and make the championship title one of his personal assets. Once he secured it, the only way he could find of ridding himself of the burdens it imposed was to give it away. That is what Jeff did with it. He looked over the field of worthy heavy-weights with a view to adopting one of them as his heir. Eight years after his first fight he decided that Marvin Hart was the heir-apparent, and abdicated in Hart's favor.

One of the striking things about Jeffries is the fact that it took a great deal of argument to convince him that he was a fighting man at all. Despite nature's generosity to him in the matter of size and strength, he had a strong suspicion all the time that he was intended to be a farmer.

Through his early life he displayed great fondness for getting close to nature via a fishing rod or a gun, and spent quite a bit of time among the mountains. He developed a decided fondness for country life, and when he resigned his high state as champion, having annexed enough money through purses, moving pictures and stage appearances to do what he pleased, he hastened to a farm in Southern California with the intention of ending his days as a sort of country squire. Had John Arthur Johnson and the color question not interfered with his plans he would, in all probability, have carried out that determination.

Jeffries was born in Carroll, Ohio, in 1875, but his parents came to California so soon after his arrival that he is looked upon almost as a native of that state. Little is recorded of his doings prior to 1897 beyond the fact that he was a mighty hunter, a good boiler-maker, and a rough and tumble fighter with whom few cared to mix. He never was an amateur fighter. The first time he entered the ring he did so on the spur of the moment, accepting the challenge of a colored fighter named "Hank" Griffin because of the money he would get by defeating the challenger. The fight occurred in Los Angeles, Cal., in 1893, and Jeff accomplished the defeat of the colored man in fourteen rounds, winding up with an artistic knock-out.

While this victory did not seem to arouse Jeff to any ambition as a fighter, it attracted the attention of fighters to him as a valuable training partner. He seconded a middle-weight named Billy Gallagher in San Francisco two years later, and Gallagher got him a match in 1896 with Dan Long, of Denver. There was a $1,000 purse up, and Long went to sleep in the second round when Jeff's left encountered his nose.

It was shortly after this that Jim Corbett began to prepare for his fight with Bob Fitzsimmons, which gave the latter the championship. Harry Corbett, Jim's brother, who was on the lookout for sparring partners, sent Jeff up to Carson City, Nevada, to join Jim's training staff. Corbett hammered the big fellow unmercifully, but Jeff was absorbing knowledge of the fighting game through every pore. These were his first real boxing lessons, and he took them from a master of the craft. Within three weeks after Corbett's defeat, Jeff was in the ring again on his own hook, doing away with the aspirations of two promising heavy-weights in quick succession in 1897.

So much had Jeff benefited by Corbett's training that he was marked as a coming fighter at once, and a match was arranged for him with Gus Ruhlin, of Akron, Ohio, which was fought in San Francisco in 1897.

Notice to Ice Consumers!

In order to give physical rest to our employees at least one afternoon out of seven days weekly toil, in which they are now engaged from twelve to fifteen hours, "we," the undersigned ice dealers have agreed to discontinue all residential ice deliveries on Sundays between the hours of noon and to six a m. Monday following. This rule to be in effect during the months of July, August and September.

From October first and balance of the year, there will be no residential deliveries on Sundays, but ice may be obtained at the plant.

From November first to end of year there will be no business deliveries on Sundays.

There will be no deliveries made for orders received after 5 o'clock p. m. week days or after 11 a. m. on Sundays.

We trust the public will co-operate with us in this matter in order that we may be able to give the restful help to our employees.

This will give us an opportunity to rest our equipment and thereby give you more effective service.

JOHN SHAFER
SEDALIA ICE, LIGHT AND FUEL CO.

The fight went twenty rounds to a draw.

In the same year Jeffries fought Joe Choynski a twenty-round draw. He recalls this fight particularly, he says, because Choynski landed on his jaw the hardest blow he ever received. It was a right-hander, and had so much good will behind it that Jeffries never forgot it. That punch was one of the things that made Jeffries call Choynski to his aid when he decided to return to the ring to fight Johnson.

During the next year Jeffries began to find out how strong he really was. He knocked out Joe Goddard, of Australia, a hardy fighter with many victories to his credit, followed that up by knocking out Old Peter Jackson in three rounds, and making Mexican Pete Everett quit in less than three. A twenty-round draw with Tom Sharkey came in the same year, and then Jeffries went to New York, where he was matched to fight two men in one evening. The first of these was Bob Armstrong (colored), and Jeff damaged his hand against the big black to such an extent that he could not meet Steve O'Donnell, the other man, much to the delight of O'Donnell's friends.

During this time Bob Fitzsimmons was retaining the championship against all comers. A match was made between Jeff and Bob at Coney Island, 1899. It was looked upon as a joke, as the man who had gathered Jim Corbett's scalp in decisive style was thought to be able to play with the big green hand, Jeffries. Fitzsimmons did play with him—for nine rounds. If there was any part of Jeff's head he did not hit at will, nobody at the ringside could locate the place. But in the tenth Fitz was tired, and in the eleventh, after going down twice, he was unable to get up a third time, and Jim Jeffries was champion of the world.

Five months later Jeffries met Tom Sharkey again in a twenty-five round fight at Coney Island. Jeff got a decision over the sailor, but he declares that Sharkey is the gamest man who ever entered the ring.

Corbett, by this time, was eager to get a match with his former sparring partner. The fight was arranged, and for twenty rounds Jeffries took a terrific amount of punishment. He utterly failed to reach Corbett with his gloves, although Corbett battered him around so freely that the big fellow looked foolish. Jeff's seconds told him that he was ex-champion beyond doubt unless he did something, and Jeff went out to do in the next round. He tore after Corbett, minding the storm of blows that met him no more than he would mind so many raindrops. His left reached Corbett's mid-section in the twenty-third round, and a moment later his right ended the fight with a short-arm jolt to the jaw.

Jeff's next fight of any importance was with his old opponent Ruhlin. After five rounds Ruhlin quit. Jeff had learned too much for Ruhlin between their meetings.

Probably the greatest amount of punishment Jeff ever took—and he took a lot of it first and last—was in his second fight with Fitzsimmons. The fight took place in 1902, and Fitz threw all his cleverness and strength into the first three rounds. Jeff's face was badly cut by the blows, and while Fitz was fresh, the champion looked like a novice beside him. But he could not keep it up, and he could not seem to worry Jeff to any extent. In the eighth Jeff's right caught the old champion in the stomach, his left went to the jaw, and Fitzsimmons was classed among the has-beens for good.

The second fight with Jim Corbett was Jeff's last important fight. In that fight Jeff showed that he had at last learned the boxing game. He outfought Corbett, the admitted master of glove work and foot work, at every point of the game, and in the eleventh Corbett went down for the count. This was Corbett's last appearance in the ring.

Just prior to his retirement Jeff fought a four-round draw with Jack Munroe at Butte. It was a stay-four rounds offer, and Munroe stayed by clinging to Jeff all the time. Munroe, after the fight, claimed he had knocked Jeff down. As a matter of fact the big man slipped and fell, but Munroe boasted of his alleged triumph until Jeff's anger was aroused and another fight was arranged. They met in San Francisco, and Munroe went down and out in the second round.

In his preparation for his fight with Johnson, Jeffries has done the hardest training work he was ever known to undergo. His methods have been peculiarly his own as a rule. He went in for bear shooting, fishing, mountain climbing and the like, and his trainers had little to say about what he did.

In preparing for Johnson, however, the retired champion has left no part of his training go uncared for. He would not agree to the match until assured by try-out work and the opinions of physicians that he was physically able to get into good condition. Once assured of that, he took up his quarters in the Santa Cruz mountains, sixty miles south of San Francisco, and drilled as he never drilled before. In his camp Jim Corbett, volunteer aid, reigned supreme. Jeff believed Jim was a wise man on matters connected with care of the body, and he

MAKING A SCRAPBOOK.
I have seen scrapbooks and scrapbooks, but the neatest one was made by a college man attending a state university. He saved only the very best articles and cut them evenly and neatly for the book and they were pasted in the scrapbook with photograph paste. The beauty of this book consisted of the few articles pasted upon each white page, further decorated with the "head and tail" pieces cut from magazines—those attractive headings that usually accompany the leading story. Some were in black and white, and many in colored effects. Graceful pictures of various kinds were placed throughout the book. The book contained many of his own poems and those of friends and favorite authors. With so much significance attached to it, no wonder the neatly-arranged book was so valuable. Another book of interest, though less artistic, is owned by a music teacher who has gleaned all interesting topics for a music book. It refers to music for certain grades, contains biographical sketches of music masters, quite a few pictures, and here and there a bar of music and a few pen sketches. These selections are valuable, and whether for personal use or not, the work is interesting and such a book would make a handsome gift.

Professional dancers have filled the platform as these jurors judged the merits of their expositions of different dances, so the final verdict has not been lightly formed.

In spite of the announcement of these radical reforms in the treading of the light fantastic toe, gay youths and maidens are today still making the good old two-step the favorite in their nightly dances about town.

There was one exception to the rule. A person dying of the plague was permitted to be buried in a linen shroud. Otherwise penalty had to be paid, $25 for each offense. The act was repealed in the reign of King George III.

First Land Sale.

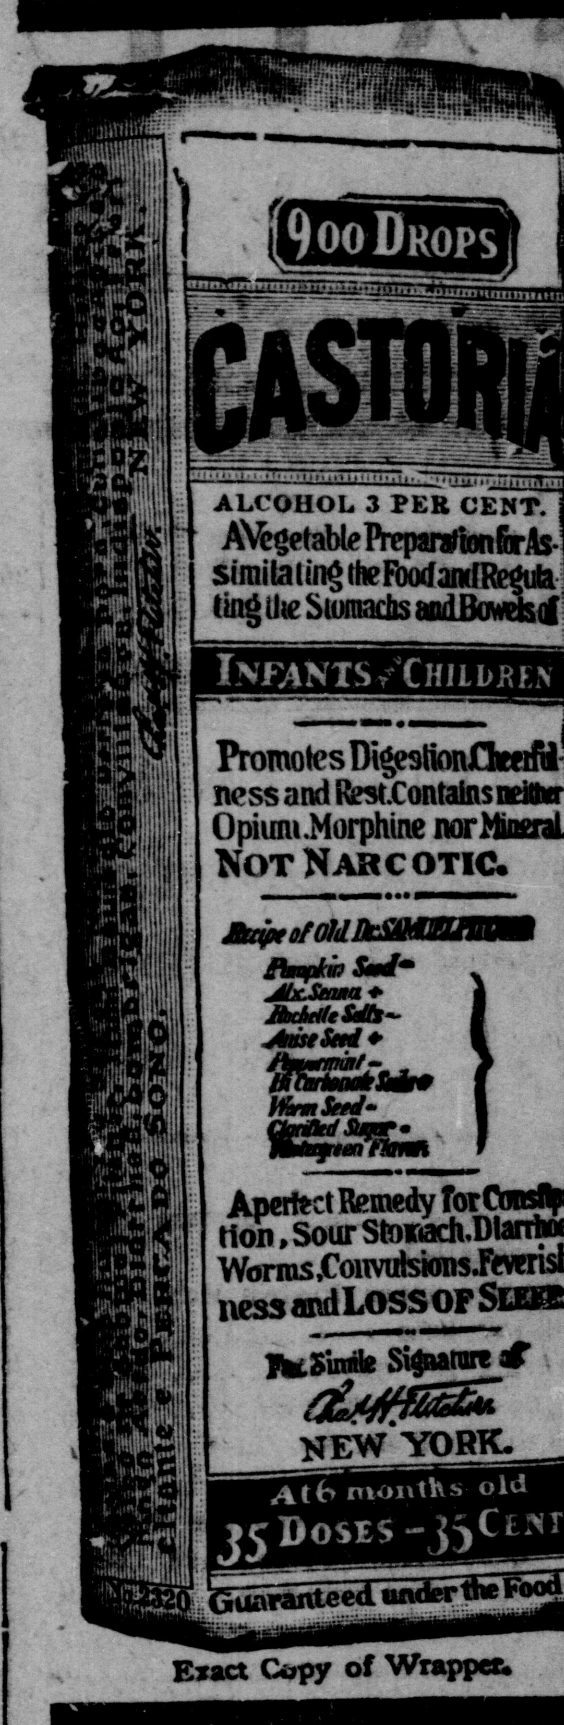

The first sale of land of which there is any definite record is that mentioned in the twenty-third chapter of Genesis. The transaction seems to have been very simple. Abraham wished to buy a field for a burial place for his family. Ephron, the owner of the field, valued it at 400 shekels of silver, about $200 of our money, which Abraham agreed to pay. He accordingly went to the gate of the city and weighed the money, which he paid in the presence of all who entered through the gate. This simple ceremony, without the intervention of lawyers or other officials, made "the field and the cave that was therein and all the trees that were in the field, and in all the borders around about," sure unto Abraham for a possession.

THE BIG FIGHTERS

beeded the former champion's words. Joe Choynski was there also, and Bob Armstrong. All three of them were victims of Jeff's handiwork in times past, but they worked hard to prepare him for his last great battle. Among Choynski's unrecorded battles is the defeat via a knockout of Jack Johnson. It was during a three-round fight at Galveston in 1892. Farmer Burns was another of the training squad. He is a wrestler of considerable reputation, and not a day of training passed but Jeffries engaged him in a struggling, hauling, hefting match.

Eight years ago, when Johnson began to loom on the pugilistic horizon, he urged his managers to make every effort to arrange for a fight with Jeffries. "Jeffries can't touch me," was his boast even in those days, and he fretted continually over the fact that until he acquired a reputation his prospects for a championship battle were but as gauzy as the tail of Halle's comet. He says he believed then as confidently in his ability to achieve the title as he did six years later, when at last his opportunity to battle for the supreme prize was realized.

"It was not my fights themselves, but my fight to get those fights that proved the hardest part of the struggle," Johnson told the Associated Press in recounting his difficulties in reaching the pinnacle of his ambition. "It was my color. They told me to get a 'rep,' but how was I to get a 'rep' without meeting fighters of class? But I made them fight me. I just kept plugging along, snapping up what chances to fight I could grab, until by and by the top notchers saw that sooner or later they'd have to take me on. As soon as I had shown what I could do, the fight public—most of the fans, anyway—took sides with me, and that helped a whole lot."

Johnson asserts that he has never been apprehensive of possible defeat in any contest he has engaged in. None of them, he declares, had any terrors for him.

His four most important battles have been fought within the last year and a half, dating from his defeat of Tommy Burns in Australia, December 26, 1908. Having wrested the championship from Burns, he determined to meet and defend his title against all comers. His fights with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, Al Kaufman and Stanley Ketchel followed in rapid succession.

On his fights two or three years before, that had brought him prominence and helped him along greatly in his career, his contests with Sam Langford, the Boston negro, Joe Jeanette, Sam McVey, Denver Ed Martin, Jim Flynn and others, Johnson lays no particular stress except to regard them as so many rungs of the ladder of success.

"I'm looking for a fight," asserted Johnson, "in which I really can let myself out and show the public just what I can do. That's one reason why I'm so anxious to go up against Jeffries."

Johnson's declaration sustains the judgment of numerous sporting writers who have maintained for years that the big negro seldom, if ever, extended himself, and was capable of striking harder blows than he has ever delivered in the ring. It appears to have been a general belief that Johnson was "holding back." This was particularly noticeable in his recent fight with Stanley Ketchel. In that bout Johnson toyed with his man all the way. He seemed to think the fight a joke until a slip and a timely punch brought him to his knees and aroused his anger. Just what happened next has never been clearly known. It was too fast to watch, and in an instant's time Ketchel was on his back and being counted out. He did not seem to realize what had struck him, and Johnson himself seemed astonished at the result of his sudden exhibition of strength and speed.

Johnson was born in Galveston in 1878, his birthday being March 31, and if ring experience goes for anything he has it. In 1901, his first year as a fighter, he fought six fights, winning all but one, which was a draw. The next year he went into the ring sixteen times, and from then on he was almost constantly engaged till to date he has to his credit over sixty battles. While many of his opponents have not been of a style to test his mettle, his frequent bouts have served at least to keep him always in training, and this is one of the strong arguments of his partials.

Temperamentally Johnson is an interesting study. His chief characteristic is his unflinching good nature, a curiously constant sort of good temper that nothing seems to ruffle. His "golden smile" is seldom out of evidence and not even the coarse and insulting jibes that frequently greet him from fight spectators seem to have the power to disturb him. Even when ducking a storm of blows and showing a wonderful skill in evading the onslaughts of his opponents, Johnson never loses his poise nor his power of observation. His eyes take in and appraise everything that transpires at the ringside. He seems to hear every comment made by the onlookers and even in a pinch, when every muscle is tense, will recognize a witty sally from the audience with a flash of his ready smile, and, like as not, an equally witty rejoinder thrown at the audience over the reeking shoulder against which he is pressing.

"Why don't you fight, you black man?" yelled an enthusiast at the Johnson-Kaufman fight. The men were in a clinch at the time, but without a moment's hesitation Johnson shouted back, "Why should I fight? I've got your $10 already."

And this cool-headedness under fire is another of the negro's qualities upon which his backers count, believing it is impossible to rattle him by any known ring tactics. That his good nature does not indicate a low order of intelligence, however, has been clearly shown by his clever business methods and his rather well done ringside speeches. Men who have watched him say he simply has no nerves, using the word in the accepted sense.

Johnson feeds that he has been well trained for this fight. He regards his present staff that has whipped him into shape in his wind swept camp on the beach as the best he ever had, and says no fighter was ever given more loyal and efficient service than he has received. All of his training partners—those who do the real work with him—are young men.

Tom Flanagan, the man who has assumed George Little's office and the nominal title of manager, is a well known Canadian athlete and sportsman, who has developed a number of prominent long distance runners, among them Longboat, the Indian.

Walter Burns, in charge of the rubbing and massage squad, is a negro who has been with Johnson continuously for the last eight years. He is regarded as an expert in his line.

Barney Furey, a negro who had charge of the road work department before Flanagan came out, has also been with Johnson for the last eight years, and, according to the champion, the camp is never complete without him.

The sparring partners, Marty Cutler (white), and George Cotton and Dave Mills (colored), are strapping young heavyweights, who in their capacity of human punch bags, have given the champion admirable service.

In addition to these men Al Kaufman, the giant young heavyweight, who has been training at the Johnson camp prior to his fight with Sam Langford, frequently donned the mits with the champion, and these tilts

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things snuffly come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good!! Hereafter for this very reason, mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must be law to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the difference. No poison marks there! Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection".

Stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

Memen. Hunters. Pales. Palestine, it is said, is being despoiled by tourists. A scientist writes: "Many of these visitors are mere 'trippers,' with no real interest or knowledge of the history of Palestine, as the astounding questions they propound to residents abundantly prove. But all are eager to possess at any price, however exorbitant, what they call 'curios' as mementos of their excursion. To meet this demand a tribe of dealers has sprung up all over the country each employing an army of agents who ride everywhere, east and west of the Jordan, encouraging the natives to tear in pieces tombs that otherwise might have awaited scientific examination in comparative safety."
